

There looks to be a third year of Lacrosse Spartan Football next year. At a board meeting of the Lacrosse Center yesterday, Art Fahey says he met briefly with Spartans GM, Chris Kokalis, and his plans are to hit the ground running again in 2012. Fahey says the Spartans would like to see an increase in attendance next year, and with the added wins the team got this year, Fahey says things could be looking good for the IFL team. Kokalis is currently assembling a schedule which would go the center for their approval then it would go to the IFL for final approval. The team is looking at 7 or 8 home games next season, beginning possibly in late January.
