

An end, finally, to the student ID voting huh bub.

Six of the UW's 26 campuses have said they'll give special ID's to students if they need them to vote. Among them, UW- Lacrosse, has unveiled plans to hand out supplemental ID's that can be used only for voting. That's because the schools' main ID's are good for longer than the two years allowed by Republicans when they passed the voter ID law. A huge cost associated with the ID's?

Chancellor Joe Gow says they will be made available in the Spring...just in time for elections in February.
