Wednesday, 04 January 2012 10:47

Three local groups that work with the disabled, senior citizens and those that vote held a press conference this morning to announce 4 workshops that will be held next week to set people straight on what the new Voter ID rules means to them. One was Jane Klekamp with the League of Women Voters.

She was joined by representatives with AARP and the Lacrosse County Aging Unit. The workshops will take place next Tuesday in Onalaska, Wednesday in Holmen, Thursday in West Salem and Friday in Lacrosse. All of the events start at 10:30am. County Clerk, Ginny Denkmeyer, will also be on hand to answer any Voter ID questions you may have.
