

Airport Scanners Get A Warm Welcome

Tuesday, 19 June 2012 10:15

New full body scanners have been in place at the La Crosse Airport for several months now. They were one of the first in the state to get the new technology. And interim Airport manager, Clint Torp, says they offer something passengers actually like.

About 600 units have been installed in 140 airports around the country, including five airports in Wisconsin.
