

Ticket to Party No Small Thing for UWL Students

Tuesday, 09 October 2012 06:07

Police are still counting up tickets from the first week-end of Oktoberfest in La Crosse. Hundreds were in the initial count. A few more for a house party from opening week-end. Hosts of the party: a couple of 20 year-old UWL students. Apparently, one of those parties where they were charging for beer cups. Five dollars apiece. That money could come in handy. Because both of them face fines of several thousand dollars each.
