

Gunfire Leads To Lockdown At S. Winneshiek Schools

Tuesday, 16 October 2012 08:54

---

A lockdown has been declared at two northeast Iowa schools after gunfire this morning...

The two South Winneshiek Schools, in Calmar and Ossian, are closed while police search for someone who fired a gun in Ossian around the time that classes would have started. Buses carrying students to the schools have been sent to 'crisis areas' while the lockdown is in effect. The Winneshiek County Sheriff's Department is looking for the people who fired the weapons.