

Thirty-five years in prison is the sentence for the two men found guilty in the Sara Hougom murder...

Kong Vue and Pao Vue received that sentence on Monday, for their roles in the apparent random shooting of a young woman at her Division Street apartment. Kong Vue fired the two fatal shots at Hougom. Pao Vue drove Kong to the apartment, reportedly to steal money. Pao had brought the gun with him in the car. Members of Hougom's family say they don't believe the two defendants have told the truth about why the shootings happened.
