

So far in 2012, the State of Wisconsin has held sixteen job fairs for veterans, connecting hundreds of employers with veterans looking for work. This week they have partnered with VETtransfer to launch a program focused on growing on veteran-owned business startups. And Governor Scott Walker says the Year of The Vet won't stop there.

\(Click for Audio\)

Walker declared 2012 as year of the vet back in February.