He's a La Crosse Santa Claus who's getting ready to raise money for the city warming center...

Robert Bailey is a volunteer at the center on West Avenue, and he aims to collect cash before Christmas, starting Friday night. How Bailey plans to raise the cash is to ring bells downtown, and sleep outside for several nights until his goal is met. Bailey says he was motivated to do this following the death last week of Mark Fuchsteiner...found outdoors in the cold a block away from the warming center.

Bailey's e-mail address is rmbcap21@yahoo.com.
