

A man convicted of killing his grandmother decades ago ambushed firefighters on Monday, fatally shooting two of them as they arrived to battle a blaze in upstate New York. Something you don't hear about too often.....but something that is discussed as far away as La Crosse, Wisconsin.

\(Click for Audio\)

La Crosse Fire Chief, Greg Cleveland says firefighters are trained for similar situations. Situations that are becoming far too common.