

A study currently being done on the future of the Lakeview Health Center in West salem is a bit behind schedule says County Administrator, Steve O'malley. He says one things for sure, it would take an estimated $12 million to $13 million just to restore the building to its 1970s state and that's not going to happen.

\(Click for Audio\)

Building new or getting out of the health care industry are the other options being looked at now. He hopes the the study is completed by next month to present to the county board.