

The image of a young woman lying on a floor passed out on a Facebook page, UW-L Student Confessions, has stirred up the local campus and some folks living in La Crosse. Chancellor Joe Gow said he agrees with free speech, but days after the death of a UW-L student that dealt with alcoholic issues, he said that picture stepped over the line.

\(Click for Audio\)

That page has since been taken down but replaced with LAX Confessions. Gow says if your going to post on the page...use your name and not the university's.