

Million Dollar Bond For Tomah Murder Suspect

Thursday, 17 June 2010 10:05

Tammy Cole will need a lot of money to leave the Monroe County jail, following her arrest for the murder of a Tomah man...one million dollars.

District Attorney Dan Cary asked for that million-dollar bond at Cole's first court hearing today in Sparta. Cole is accused of killing Vance Evans, while visiting his home in late April. The Illinois woman claims the shooting was an accident. Cole will be back in court on June 29th.
