

The Western Wisconsin Economic Development Fund aims to combine existing revolving loan resources among the members of the Mississippi River Regional Planning Commission. La Crosse County has now joined that program. Brian Fukuda, La Crosse County community development specialist explains their current loan process now.

\(Click for Audio\)

Now, La Crosse County will join the program that involves a revolving loan fund for fostering business and economic development in the region. Creating new jobs is a requirement of the program.