

What should scuba divers do to avoid risking their health, when they go underwater?

Get good training, and good equipment. Advice from Marineland of Onalaska manager Jeff Zilliox, a diver himself. Two divers died at Wazee Lake in Jackson County this weekend...one apparently from a heart attack, with the other showing signs of surfacing too quickly. Zilliox says the divers at Wazee could have made some mistakes while going to levels below 150 feet.
