

More students means more tuition which could mean better pay increases at UW-L

this year. Chancellor Joe Gow says with an expected high turnout of students this year...some may be in for a pay raise. Not all though.

\(Click for Audio\)

How much and who gets the pay raises won't be determined for a couple of months at least.