

Fest Medallion Found After 5-Day Search

Friday, 20 September 2013 10:45

The search is over...

Somebody has found the Oktoberfest medallion for this year, on the fifth day of the hunt. The name of the finder, and the location where the medallion was hidden, will be made public later today. Last year, the search lasted only four days before the medallion was discovered under a bridge at Houska Park.
