

Reward Offered for Car Tipping

Wednesday, 13 November 2013 16:03

Police aren't giving up on finding the vandals that tipped over cars for this year's Oktoberfest in La Crosse. Some fresh energy for that search comes from a couple of new rewards. Oktoberfest and Western Technical College have pledged a thousand dollars each to locate the car tipping perps. Rewards can be helpful for jogging a memory or two, says police sergeant Randy Rank

\(Click for Audio\)

Three cars were tipped over late night on September 28th and early morning of the 29th in a college neighborhood. No suspects have ever been identified.