

Today is the last day Governor Scott Walker will take applications for the vacant Monroe County District Attorney position. This after D.A. Dan Cary died unexpectedly back on November 4th. The new appointee will serve out the remainder of the unexpired term and will be up for election in November 2016. Applications can be sent to Governor Walker's website and must be in by 5pm today.