

If your strapping on the blaze orange and heading out to hunt this weekend in Wisconsin....don't be surprised if you head north and come back empty handed. That according to the DNR's Kevin Wallenfang.

\(Click for Audio\)

He says they use hunter registration numbers in different parts of the state and bow hunters testimony to gauge deer movement. Other parts of the state should be good to go with deer herd numbers though. The 9 day gun deer season starts Saturday morning.