

Probably no movement this month by the La Crosse city council on whether to decrease pet limit numbers. Council member Ryan Cornett's three pet per household idea will likely get put on hold for at least a month. Cornett is also at work on a dangerous pets rule. Obvious reasons

\(Click for Audio\)

Critics of the pet number limit proposal say it could significantly impact adoptions of rescue animals in the area.