

Will There Be School With These Temps?

Thursday, 02 January 2014 17:31

Minus 13. That's Monday's high predicted temperature. Cold enough to close area schools? Dan Deicher sought out that answer.

\(Click for Audio\)

In the La Crosse School District, Superintendent, Randy Nelson says he and his staff know what's about to hit the area Monday with minus temperatures. So when do you call off school if that's the case?

\(Click for Audio\)

Nelson says if they in fact to decide to close the district down, you would be notified either 6-10pm Sunday night or around 5 Monday morning.