

Shooting Victim Identified As Young Woman...Self-Inflicted Wound

Tuesday, 14 January 2014 09:12

The person found shot to death in a La Crosse alley last night has been identified as a young woman, who apparently shot herself.

Police are not releasing the woman's name, but say that she was in her 20's. They say there is no safety risk to people living in the area of Green Bay and Redfield Streets, where the shooting occurred.