

The trouble that a La Crosse guy got into this week-end turns out to be only half of his problems. Cops arrested 30 year-old Travis Schumacher after a knock-down, drag-out with his live-in girlfriend. But he was also wanted for a hit and run from last week-end. Cops say he rear-ended a woman with his truck and she chased him down to get his information. Surprisingly, cops say Schumacher shared the info off his identity. But then took off on foot. Cops tracked him with a dog but lost the trail in a northside park. Until this week-end. Besides the hit and run, Schumacher faces a list of other charges
