

Right now, students in La Crosse will see June 10th as a school day. One of three that will have to be made up due to winter cancellations. But what if school has to be cancelled more this winter? We put that question to Superintendent, Randy Nelson.

\(Click for Audio\)

Nelson says he knows some other districts are starting the school day earlier instead of having to add more days on to the end of the school year.