

When the new Northside Elementary school opens in the fall, it will be filled with students and staff that are currently in Roosevelt Elementary, the city's oldest school. What to do with the old building will be the center of a Linkage with Roosevelt neighbors and the public Monday night. Superintendent Randy Nelson says the school board wants to know what neighbors would and would not want to see on that site.

\(Click for Audio\)

The meeting starts at 6:30pm Monday night.