

Construction on the new Northside Elementary School in La Crosse is moving along well. That's what Building and Grounds Supervisor, Joe Ledvina told northside residents Tuesday night.

Ledvina said in terms of the whole work plan they really are right on time, and they're also right within sight of their budget, so they feel they're in a good place. Northside Elementary is expected to be completed by the start of next school year. You can watch the live progress of the construction by clicking the link below.
