

A successful active shooter drill in La Crosse this week. Kimberly Lansing with Gundersen Health System explains what it was emergency responders faced in the simulated training.

(Click for Audio)

She says all sides worked together though before next year's drill communication lines have to be worked on.