

Homicide Charge Results From Drug Overdose

Wednesday, 17 November 2010 10:07

A La Crosse man could be charged today with reckless homicide, because of a drug death last month.

Ian Lutz was arrested last month after the apparent overdose death of Garrett Hall. Before he died, Hall claimed that he had bought heroin from Lutz, and Lutz admitted to police that he had sold the drug to Hall. Until now, Lutz had been charged with making and delivering heroin, but not with homicide.