

There scooping them up like hotcakes. They are Rose Bowl tickets and if you want one.....you better look deep into your bank account.

The Badgers said they had to scrap plans for a general public sale, because of a strong demand from season-ticket holders and donors to the Wisconsin athletic program. Wisconsin is playing in the "Grand-daddy" of the bowl games for the first time in 11 years. They'll face Texas Christian on New Year's Day in Pasadena California. If you are trying to find tickets, Dave Friedman of Friedman's Hobbit Travels says stay away from the internet. He says you have no idea who you are buying from and face to face transactions are always safer. He also says use a credit card when purchasing any form of travel, especially Badger Bowl tickets.

The face value for Rose Bowl tickets is $145.
