

Christmas Eve Gets Salvation Army Closer

Monday, 27 December 2010 12:40

They were still 40 per cent short of the goal, a couple days before Christmas...

However, workers with the La Crosse Salvation Army are confident they were able to collect lots of money from last-minute holiday shoppers. Julie Nelson at the Salvation Army says it's not too late to help put the red kettle campaign over the 600-thousand dollar goal.