

Police: SSI Recipient Caught Dealing Pot

Tuesday, 04 January 2011 11:10

A La Crosse guy has apparently found a way to supplement his social security. Illegal though it may be. La Crosse cops say they've busted 29 year-old Keith Atwell junior for dealing pot. Apparently they've been on to the unemployed social security recipient for a couple of months. They used some marked bills to nab Atwell, busting him in his car with the buy money on him during a traffic stop on the northside last night.
