

Mike Huebsch in contempt? A Wisconsin union has filed a motion in Dane County court to have Department of Administration secretary Huebsch found in contempt for locking down the capitol on Wednesday night prior to a Senate vote on portions of the controversial budget repair bill. The motion was filed before the same judge who, last week, ordered Huebsch to provide better access to the capitol and also laid the groundwork for getting protesters removed from the building in a peaceful way.