

Once a navy man, always a navy man.

La Crosse city council member Tom Sweeney just can't get away from his past. On Sunday, Sweeney officially takes command of the US Naval sea cadet corps that moved to La Crosse last fall. The cadets will mark the occasion with a ceremony and open house on Sunday

The sea cadet shebang starts at three on Sunday at the La Crosse center. That's fifteen hundred hours on the nose, Navy time, says Sweeney; so be prompt.
