

The signals must have gotten crossed somewhere...

Three months ago, a La Crosse judge ordered a new mental evaluation of sex offender Chad Schroeder (SHRAY-der), who might be committed as a 'psychopath.' Judge Dale Pasell wanted the report done by the end of July. Now, July is over, but the judge said in court today that the state mental institute didn't get the word that he wanted a report. Pasell says he's ready to sign an order for a new evaluation. Doctors have said the 38-year-old Schroeder is likely to commit sex crimes again, if he's let out of prison and released into the community
