

Lacrosse County is looking to limit areas in which people can bring in concealed weapons. County board chair, Tara Johnson, says the county executive committee voted yesterday in favor of posting signs in all buildings owned by the county that say concealed weapons aren't allowed. She says the state law did not include several areas like the clerk of courts and justice sanctions.....this ordinance does. The full county board votes on the measure next week.