

City Brewery Facing Fines from Feds

Monday, 19 September 2011 11:45 -

Big fines for a La Crosse company possibly coming from the Feds. OSHA is looking to get over a hundred thousand dollars from City Brewery for 16 serious safety violations. Among them, one that allowed workers to be exposed to ammonia during maintenance on pipelines. The company has 15 days to either pay up or contest the findings of the work safety agency.
