

Monroe County Crash

Wednesday, 28 September 2011 08:04 -

Good thing a train wasn't coming through. Monroe County deputies are investigating a crash in the unincorporated village of Tunnel City last night that ended up with a truck on railroad tracks.

24 year old Kaitlin Youngs of Wyeville lost control of her pickup truck.....missed the curve, left the road..... struck a power pole guy wire causing the pole to break in half. The truck then went down into a ditch and came to rest on railroad tracks belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railroad.

Youngs ended up with non-life threatening injuries. Bystanders had removed the truck from the railroad tracks prior to officers arriving at the scene. She blames the crash on bad brakes.