

A spring referendum on whether to add a city administrator in La Crosse seems imminent. The council has cast a preliminary--near unanimous-- vote on holding a referendum. Which is how it should be, former councilman Bill Harnden told current council members last night

While the council casts a final vote on a referendum tomorrow night, two local groups are holding a petition drive to also possibly force a referendum.