

Central Helping Salvation Army Today

Wednesday, 21 December 2011 11:58 -

The Salvation Army will be handing out food and Christmas presents today at their location at 319 Main Street. The entire Central High School basketball program and their youth program will again be helping the Salvation Army from approximately 4pm 7pm. This will entail over 100 athletes and parents, coaches and staff from La Crosse Central's Basketball program.

This is the 2nd year Central has provided manpower to help the Salvation Army.

Last year they helped hand out food and presents to over 400 families and over 1100 children.
