

La Crosse is about to join a small list of cities in the state with natural gas filling stations. Although there has yet to be an official announcement from Kwik Trip, we've heard from multiple sources that the company is working on adding a compressed natural gas filling station at its store on the corner of fifth and Cass in La Crosse. There's currently only 13 such filling stations throughout the state to fill the need of a small but growing number of cars on the road. There's approximately 10 million CNG cars around the world, but it's an extremely small segment of the automotive market in the states, even though cost to fuel the cars can be a third the cost of gas and diesel.

