

Grandson Leads Robbery, Home Invasion

Monday, 29 March 2010 11:12 -

When three young men were done with a 75 year old southside woman this week-end, she had bruises on her knees and bruises on her fingers and a desperate feeling of insecurity, fear, and betrayal. La Crosse cops say the woman's own grandson led two other punks to her house, directing them to a safe, jewelry, keys to her car and her television. They took it all and roughed her up in the process, even bruising her fingers while they ripped off her rings. The woman escaped to a neighbor's house and called cops who were there in seconds. Cops say the grandson, Jonathan Anderson, was trying to sell some of the stuff the next day. He's got a bit of a drug problem, apparently. Anderson, 21 year-old Jeffrey Flores, and a 16 year-old all faces numerous charges.
