

Justin Hoard wasn't the only guy drunk and stumbling this week-end. Hoard was the 22 year-old guy La Crosse cops went on a wild goose chase for after his friends declared him suspiciously missing after he'd been gone for a couple of hours early Saturday morning. They found him, later that morning, passed out in a car, still drunk. But police also had to deal with numerous others who could have wound up in much the same shape. Like the UW Madison student cops found in Riverside Park; drunk, disoriented, separated from friends, no idea where he was. He collected a public intoxication warning and a ticket for being in the park after hours.
