

The UW-L Foundation awarded 400 scholarships totaling about $325 thousand during the Student Scholarship and Awards program last night. And Foundation President, Al Trapp, says there was a reason the number of applicants went up this year. And it may have saved some trees in the process.

The UW-L Foundation also awards an additional $150 thousand in scholarships at other times throughout the year.