

ATV License Plate Requirement Coming in July

Tuesday, 05 June 2012 09:54 -

Generally, motor vehicles get license plates in Wisconsin. Not ATV's. Until now. Starting next month, the DNR will require you to put a license plate for the back of your ATV. And that's more than a few new license plates

Todd Schaller's with the DNR. The agency won't provide you with a license plate, so you have to buy one from a private company or make one yourself. As long as it's the right size, black and white, and the letters and numbers are big enough, you should be okay.
