

Convicts Still On The Loose In Western Wisconsin

Monday, 23 July 2012 10:15 -

James Misleveck and James Newman are still on the loose and some local authorities feel they may still be in the area. The two walked away from the Black River Falls Correctional facility last Tuesday night. Monroe County Sheriff, Pete Quirin, says the phone calls keep coming in.....with few leads happening.

Deputies from Vernon, Juneau and Monroe Counties have all been working the case and no strong leads have come in yet. Quirin says he is very surprised the two are still on the lam.
