

New Secretary Named

Thursday, 15 April 2010 17:15 -

Governor Doyle doesn't have to look far for his new commerce secretary. Yesterday, the governor appointed Aaron Oliver to the job. Oliver has been serving as deputy secretary under Richard Leinenkugel. Recently, Leinenkugel stepped down to run for the U.S. senate. Oliver got most of his higher education at UW-Madison. But, he also was a Rhodes Scholar after going to school at Oxford University. Oliver officially starts his new job on Monday.