

With another election coming Tuesday...what ever happened to the state's new voter i.d. law? Still tied up in the courts says League of Women Voters Director, Andrea Kaminski.

One of those injunctions were put forth by the League. As for the elections in November....Kaminiski says it won't be enacted fully by then.