

Walker Ready For Speech Tonight

Tuesday, 28 August 2012 11:29 -

Governor Scott Walker has had to battles on his hands today so far. His voice....and his bathroom. On the voice front....he says he is getting it back after a rough past couple of days at the Republican National Convention. He delivers a speech there tonight. What's it about?

On the latrine front....Walker tweeted this morning.... Sewer backed up in our hotel bathroom this A.M. Not quite the wake up call one wants.
