

Police Have Little to Add in Petras Killings

Monday, 17 September 2012 11:38 -

Very little new information reported by La Crosse police today about the double murder that occurred over the week-end downtown. Police 56 year old Paul Petras and his son, 19 year-old AJ, were shot to death inside the family business, May's Photo on Main street, sometime between two and 5:15 in the afternoon on Saturday. Police say they're still looking for help in locating suspects in the murders and are seeking information on anything that may have looked out of place or suspicious in the area around the time of the killings. They say there's nothing to indicate the murders are connected to any other killing in La Crosse and also suggest there's no further threat to the public.
